PJRFISI: CANNABIS SAFETY STANDARDS

We now offer specialty certifications that cover all facets of the Cannabis Industry! PJRFISI has created new Cannabis programs based on our successful food, agricultural, and pharmaceutical safety certifications. Whether you are growing/harvesting, producing/extracting, or creating MIP's (Marijuana Infused Products), we have resources for you that are streamlined and effective. PJRFISI Cannabis certification program is based on Good Manufacturing Practice (GMP) guidelines and are State-specific.

These new offerings in the field of Cannabis certification are intended to ensure health and safety from planting through harvesting and storage/transportation. With its GAP- and GMP-based approaches, the standards are customizable to adhere to the wide variety of currently applicable state regulations and requirements around cannabis agriculture.

Why use PJRFISI for your Cannabis Program? As the first ANAB-accredited Cannabis certification scheme in the United States, PJRFISI's programs have a cutting-edge and innovative angle that is constantly adapting to new requirements as legalization of medical and recreational use spreads across the country. We have provided input to numerous states during the implementation of their programs. Let our experience be your first resource.

Why certify your Cannabis business?

- Ensure compliance to local, regional, and state guidelines for Cannabis production or sale.
- Increased consumer confidence.
- Voluntary commitment to safety and quality enhances public image for both customers and non-customers.
